INDEX TO VOLUME XVI (1955)

(Names of Contributors appear in SMALL CAPITALS)

ALBAUM, MARTIN, 179–197
American, idea of progress, 401–415
ANDERSON, G. L., 247–251
Aristotle, on continuity, 548f.
BANDEL, BETTY, 113–118
BERINGAUSE, ARTHUR F., 240–246
Barbarian, assault, 232–239
Berkeley, and Molyneux on vision, 339–355
Bodin, Ramist tendencies, 306–323
Cartesian, circle, 324–338
Christine de Pisan, educational ideas of, 3–21
City, Greek view of, 416–420
Continuous magnitude, Aristotle and Newton on, 548f.
Copernicus, on inflation, 540f.
DONEY, WILLIS, 324–338
Duhem, Pierre, Système du Monde, 420
Economics, theories of development, 518–539; v. City, Copernicus, Physiocrats
Education, ideas of Christine de Pisan, 3–21
Eighteenth Century, science and religion in England, 1790–1800; v. Berkeley, Herder, Hume, Hutcheson, Kant, Molyneux, Montesquieu, Physiocrats
Emerson, and Anglo-Saxon past, 476f.
EVANS, MELBOURNE, G., 548–557
Fabians, and utilitarianism, 76–88
FERGUSON, ARTHUR B., 287–305
FIESS, EDWARD, 275–280
FRANKENA, WILLIAM, 356–375
Frankfort, H., v. Mythic
GABRIEL, ASTRIK L., 3–21
GARFINKLE, NORTON, 376–388
GASTER, THEODOR, 422–425
GEYL, PIETER, 260–274
Gildon, Charles, total academy, 247–251
Gothic, Emerson on Anglo-Saxon past, 476–493
Hakewill, on virility of nature, 135–150
HEPBURN, RONALD, 135–150
Herder, natural law and history, 453–475
Hindu, philosophy of history, 494–505
Historiography, recent trends, 506–517
Hobbes, and the Metaphysical conceit, 558–562
Hobson, on imperialism, 252–259
Hume, and pragmatism, 198f.
Hutcheson, moral sense theory, 356–375, on economics, 526–7
Imperialism, Hobson, Lenin, Schumpeter on, 252–259
Ireland, presentness of the past in, 240–246
Kant, and pragmatism, 198f.
KLIGER, SAMUEL, 476–493
KRUGER, DANIEL H., 252–259
Lenin, on imperialism, 252f.
Locke, logic of ideas, 431–452
LOEMKER, LEROY E., 22–43
MACK, MARY PETER, 76–88
Malthus, T. R., on British society, 60–75
MANDELBAUM, MAURICE, 506–517
MATHUR, G. B., 198–208
McRAE, KENNETH, 306–323
Middle Ages, Duhem, 420; educational ideas of Christine de Pisan, 3–21; English Chroniclers' attitude to women, 113–118
Mill, John Stuart, on science, 209f.
Molyneux, and Berkeley on vision, 339–355
Montesquieu, analysis of Roman history, 44–59
Moral Sense, v. Hutcheson
Mythic, thought in ancient Near East, 422–425
Newton, on continuity, 548f.

Nineteenth Century, v. Emerson, Fabians, Malthus, Mill, Peirce (Benjamin), Sumner, W. G., Whewell
NOTESTEIN, ROBERT B., 389–400
OAKE, ROGER B., 44–59
Peirce, Benjamin, mathematician philosopher, 89–112
PETERSON, SVEN R., 89–112
Philosophy, of history, 151–178, 453–475; v. Berkeley, Boyle, Hume, Hutcheson, Kant, Leibniz, Peirce (Benjamin), Spitz on Herder
Physiocrats, moral defenses, 179–197
Political philosophy, v. Fabians, Malthus
Pragmatic movement, Hume and Kant, 198–208
PRAKASH, BUDDHA, 494–505
Progress, idea of, in America, 401–415
Ramus, and Bodin, 306–323
Religion, and science in England (1790–1800), 376f.
Renaissance, realism in early Tudor literature, 287–305; v. Ramus
Roman history, Montesquieu on, 44–59
ROSENTHAL, JEROME, 151–178
Schumpeter, on imperialism, 252–259
Science, and religion in England (1790–1800), 376–388; and superstition, censorship of, 119–125; Boyle and Leibniz, 22–43; Peirce, Benjamin, 89–112; Whewell and Mill on, 209–231
Seventeenth Century, Boyle and Leibniz, 22–43; censorship by Sorbonne, 119–125; Hakewill on virility of nature, 135–150; Locke, logic of ideas, 431–452; Newton on continuity, 548f.; v. Hobbes
SIMONS, RICHARD B., 60–75
SPIEGEL, HENRY W., 518–539
SPENCER, PHILIP, 232–239
SPITZ, LEWIS W., 453–475
STRONG, E. W., 209–231
Sumner, W. G., moralist rigorism, 389–400
TAYLOR, J., 540–547
THORNDIKE, LYNN, 119–125
TOYNBEE, ARNOLD J., 421; as poet, 275–280; the prophet, 260–274
TURBAYNE, COLIN M., 339–355
Voltaire, philosophy of history, 151–178
WATSON, GEORGE, 558–562
WELTER, RUSH, 401–415
WHEELER, MARCUS, 416–420
Whewell, and Mill on science, 209–231
Women, educational ideas of Christine de Pisan, 3–21; English Chroniclers attitude to, 113–118
YOLTON, JOHN W., 431–452

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Board of Editors gratefully acknowledge the generous collaboration during the past year of the following consultants: Erich Auerbach, David Baumgardt, Nathan Berall, Bernard Bowron, Willson H. Coates, T. Das, Bailie Diffie, Ludwig Edelstein, Pierre Garai, Talbot Hamlin, E. Harris Harbison, Henry Russell Hitchcock, Maurice Mandelbaum, Leo Marx, Benjamin N. Nelson, Donald A. Roberts, Edward Rosen, and Paul Schrecker.